TWO CONFESS GRAND RAPIDS ROBBERY

DRY PROBLEM STIRS UNREST IN GOP RANKS

TROUBLE BREWS ON PLANS FOR CONVENTION, ALSO

Washington, May 25 (AP)—Prohibition and organization worries are combining to stir up troubles which may settle down upon the Republican national convention.

Persistent statements of the interest being manifested by the president in the shaping of a prohibition plank for the party has brought a wave of inquiries and protests to the capital.

It became known today that the prohibition leaders have been pressing Senator Borah, their champion, for information since his reported discussion with Mr. Hoover. Several are coming to the capital for conferences.

The organized dry bodies—39 in all—also will mobilize in Washington next week to consider campaign strategy to follow between now and the national conventions.

Borah Is Silent

Dr. Edwin C. Dinwiddie, secretary of the National Prohibition Board of Strategy, said the board of the national conference of organizations supporting the 18th amendment would map plans "on the theory that both Republicans and Democrats, on sober second thought, will refuse to take a position that would drive away dry support."

Senator Borah himself is continuing determinedly silent about that subject as well as reports of differences between himself and high Republican leaders over the prohibition declaration for 1932.

Meanwhile, the president is having his troubles in recognizing plans for the national convention in view of the prospect that congress may be in session.

His failure to consult with some of the party leaders on Capitol Hill is also causing some grumbling in congress.

Selection of a new national chairman for the party is another trouble point. The finger was pointing tonight toward Patrick J. Hurley, the secretary of war, as the chairman to manage the election campaign.

Once more the congressional Republican chieftains, many of whom are up for election this year, are complaining they have a right to have a say in the choice of the campaign manager who will play a part in their destinies this fall.

Last night's conference by the president with Postmaster General Brown, Charles D. Hilles, national committeeman for New York, and James Francis Burke, counselor of the national committee, did not help the feeling of the party chiefs on Capitol Hill who were as much in the dark about it today as anyone else.

Not even Senator Fess, of Ohio, the national chairman, was called into the White House consultation over convention plans but he was informed of it by the participants later.

Despite all the talk of the attitude of the president on the vexing prohibition issue no one has stated his position with any authority.

Mayor Walker Quizzed by Seabury

Curtis Case Will Be Put Before Jury Today

BY FRANCIS A. JAMIESON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Hopewell, N. J., May 25 (AP)—Speedy grand jury action in the "enormous deception" perpetrated by John Hughes Curtis, hoax negotiator, was near tonight as negative developments impeded the progress of the main hunt for the kidnapers and killers of the Lindbergh baby.

Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck was ready to lay the Curtis case before the Hunterdon county grand jury tomorrow morning and W. C. Pender, attorney for Curtis, conceded in Norfolk, Va., there was little doubt his client would be indicted. Any indictment, however, would not be reported formally until Saturday.

On the time of a trial on the charges of obstructing justice and furnishing false information the prosecutor and Pender were in disagreement. Hauck said he hoped to conclude the case before the end of June, but Pender asserted preparation of the defense, including probably a legal attack on the old statute involved, would require more time than that.

Meantime, Dr. John F. Condon, the ransom payer, remained in New England while one of the clues he supplied police collapsed. "Jafsie" had picked out a picture as the likeness of "John" to whom he paid $50,000 April 2. Investigation of the subject disclosed authorities re'ated, "no possible connection with this case." The exact source of the picture was not divulged.

Dr. Condon will continue his inspection of rogues gallery photographs later and will visit the state bureau of identification at Trenton, N. J.

Police bulletins also told of the temporary detention of a man subsequently turned over to federal authorities on a narcotics charge.

Mrs. Lindbergh remained in seclusion at home after making a brief visit yesterday to her mother's Englewood, N. J., residence.

WIFE SLAYER GETS SENTENCE

Life in Prison at Hard Labor Meted Out to Foundry Worker

Muskegon, Mich., May 25 (AP)—John Kozun, 41, foundry worker, was sentenced in circuit court today to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Jackson for slaying his wife during a quarrel over a pet lamb last October.

Conscience-stricken, Kozun confessed the slaying last Sunday and pleaded guilty upon arraignment yesterday. In one statement Kozun said he had buried his wife while she was still alive, but later said she died before he carried her body to a grave he had dug under a chicken coop.

In pronouncing the life sentence at hard labor and solitary confinement, Judge John Vanderwerp scored the Michigan statutes for not providing the death penalty so he could thus free taxpayers of the burden of supporting Kozun for the rest of his life.

"Anyone guilty of such a horrible crime deserves death by operation of the law," Judge Vanderwerp told Kozun. "I am sorry I cannot send you to the electric chair. I wouldn't feel bad in performing the duty.

"Kent county today has need of such a statute in disposing of the bandits who yesterday shot and killed an officer. I hope the statute may be changed to provide the death penalty."

Browne Plans to Leave Seattle for Tokyo This Morning

Seattle, May 25. (AP)—Assured of clearing weather in the North Pacific by reports late today, Nathan C. Browne, former Chicago, Detroit mail pilot, announced he would take off for Tokyo between 6:30 and 8:30 a. m. tomorrow providing a south wind was blowing.

Weather observers here said a south wind was practically certain to blow at some time during those hours.

Browne has only seven days left to qualify for Seattle's $30,000 prize for the first flight between this city and Tokyo.

He plans to make the flight alone in the monoplane "Lone Star."

Chippewa Indians Will Hold Pow-Wow

Mt. Pleasant, Mich., May 25 (AP)—Chief Elijah Elk has called a new war council of the 400 Chippewa Indians living in this territory.

Tribesmen of the Saginaw, Swan Creek and Black River bands have been summoned to meet here in general conference Saturday to facilitate the hearing of their claims against the government.

The claims total more than $3,000,000 on the basis of treaties of 1855 and 1864. The government land division has granted a petition for such a hearing, Chief Elk said.

Demos Will Check Finances June 24

New York, May 25 (AP)—A "victory fund caucus" will be held in Chicago June 24, three days before the national convention, to close the Democratic party's national drive for $1,500,000 to finance the 1932 presidential campaign, it was announced today.

John W. Davis, general campaign chairman, sent telegrams and letters to the 48 state chairmen and to about 1500 other key men and women instructing them to have their final reports ready by that time.

Fitzgerald Will Not Be Candidate For Governorship

Lansing, May 25 (AP)—The political atmosphere was clarified today when Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, announced definitely that he will not run for the Republican nomination for governor. His statement was in response to a demand from a Detroit group that he become a candidate.

Although Fitzgerald had stated before that the only office he seeks this year is re-election as secretary of state, a "draft Fitzgerald" movement boomed merrily along. Leaders reported that nearly 50,000 signatures have been obtained on nominating petitions. If they file the petitions despite Fitzgerald's announcement, he will withdraw, and the new election law makes his word final.

The elimination of Fitzgerald leaves only Mayor William McKeighan of Flint, as an avowed opponent of Governor Wilber M. Brucker in the primary election next September. However, friends of Alex J. Groesbeck, former governor, believe the ultimate contest will be between Brucker and Groesbeck.

Chicago Wants To Protect Reputation

Chicago, May 25. (AP)—Chicago started out to do something today to protect the city's reputation from the grade school grammar books.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Carl J. Appel glanced through a fifth grade grammar used in Chicago schools and found this sentence:

"Neither gangsters nor murderers are molested very much by the Chicago police."

He wrote a letter today to Charles B. Anderson, publisher of the textbook, which is entitled "Common Errors in English Corrected."

Appel said that the question in question is "just one big error"—and libelous besides.

Masonic Conclave At Saginaw Ended

Saginaw, Mich., May 25 (AP)—The annual convention of the Michigan Masonic Grand Lodge closed here this afternoon with the installation of newly elected officers and the selection of Lansing for the 1933 communication.

Wirt I. Savery, of Detroit, was elected right worshipful grand marshal and all other officers were moved up one step. This made Louis E. Anderson, of Omena, most worshipful grand master. Other officers not in the line of advancement were re-elected.

One Killed, Several Injured By Tornado

Trenton, Neb., May 25 (AP)—A tornado struck the country settlement of Cornell, near here here today, killing one person and injuring several others.

Mrs. John Newport was killed and several members of the family of Mrs. Aimie Nealeigh were injured severely. A heavy rain accompanied the storm.

Reports reaching here said farm buildings were destroyed and much damage was done

TRUCK DRIVER ROBBED OF $400

State Police Checking On Highways in Peninsula

L'Anse, Mich., May 25. (AP)—Unable to obtain even a slight description of two bandits who at midnight Tuesday held up the Aselin Creamery company truck of Iron Mountain near Covington Junction, 15 miles southeast of L'Anse, and fled with $400 after robbing the driver, Joseph LaPorte, state police and Ontonagon county sheriff's officers today were checking surrounding highways in a vague hope of finding a trace of criminals.

LaPorte reported the robbery to Sheriff William Netti at L'Anse early this morning and said he believed the men headed in the direction of Michigamme on US-41 in an automobile he was unable to describe, after they had held him up on the lonely stretch of road. Because the night was pitch dark, he said he was unable to distinguish their features. To gain time in their escape, LaPorte said the pair took off the distributor cap on the truck's motor.

About half the bandits' loot consisted of currency and the remainder was in checks.

The Marquette detachment of state police was notified, but without a description on which to base their investigation, troopers concentrated their efforts on looking for suspicious characters.

Plane Plunges Into Sea, Two Fliers Die

San Diego, Cal., May 25 (AP)—Two navy fliers were drowned, and a third was saved by the merest chance when a torpedo land plane went to pieces in a power dive and plunged into the Pacific ocean today south of Coronado.

A. T. Meade and D. E. Serber, both first class aviation pilots, were not seen after the plane sunk.

E. W. Hunderle, chief aviation pilot, a passenger, was rescued by the fishing boat San Joaquin. He was thrown clear of the diving plane and managed to open his parachute a few seconds before reaching the water.

Victim Of Robbery Gains His Revenge

Detroit, May 25 (AP)—A thug secured $16 from Hassen M. Davliz in a holdup of his grocery Saturday night. Davliz has made daily trips to police headquarters to see whether the man had been arrested. While walking on Woodward avenue after today's trip he saw the man he wanted. He took a tight hold on George Rae, 32, and clung to him until three policemen arrived. Rae admitted the robbery, police said.

ADMITS STOCK DEAL, DEFENDS OFFICIAL ACTS

EXECUTIVE CHEERED BY THOUSANDS AT COURTHOUSE

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN
(Ass'd Press Staff Writer)

New York, May 25 (AP)—Mayor James J. Walker, in a fiery, spectacular appearance as a witness today before Samuel Seabury, acknowledged realizing $246,692.76 without investment from a brokerage account with Paul Block, the publisher, and denied he influenced improperly the granting of a bus franchise.

The tracing of the brokerage transactions came as the mayor completed a full day on the stand of the Hofstadter legislative committee, which has been engaged in a sweeping 14 months investigation of the municipal government, with Seabury as counsel.

Thousands milled around in front of the county courthouse as Walker sat on the stand sometimes mopping his forehead and mixing repartee and recriminations in his answers to the scholarly, gray-haired Seabury.

Crowd Cheers, Hisses

When the mayor arrived in the morning the whole neighborhood echoed with the cheer that went up. All day the streets around the building were black with men and women who stood there for hours just to get a glimpse of the man New York's millions call "Jimmy."

Ten minutes seldom passed without an outburst from the spectators who jammed the court room. Whenever they credited Walker with a point they cheered. At other times there were loud hisses.

"That a boy Jimmy," one man shouted about the din of each outburst.

Walker said the joint account was opened, without any initial investment, "on Mr. Block's splendid credit and reputation."

"Did you stand ready to stand any loss that might be incurred?" Seabury asked.

"I stood ready to," the mayor answered.

The entire morning session was devoted to questioning Walker about events leading up to the granting by the city board of estimate of a franchise to the Equitable Bus company to operate in three of New York City's five boroughs.

Previous witnesses had told how J. Allan Smith, promotor for the busy company, had purchased,

Senate Plans to Put Back House Taxes in Gigantic Revenue Bill

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 25 (AP)—After a period of wavering and confusion, the senate responded tonight to appeals for balancing the budget to end world runs on American gold with a move to restore some house taxes to the billion dollar revenue bill.

This decided upon, Chairman Smoot of the finance committee adjourned the senate and called a special committee meeting for 8:30 tomorrow morning to consider restoration of many excise rates eliminated from the house bill in the pending compromise measure.

Complete revision of the excise tax schedule was hinted by Smoot after Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, had moved to restore many of the special levies.

Seeking Speed

There also was a hint that the admissions tax exemption might be raised above the drastic 11 cents limit now in the bill.

The net result of the revision in sight for tomorrow is to add possibly more revenue to the bill.

The drive for new funds started tonight after strong appeals of Republican and Democratic leaders had halted a raid on the automobile taxes.

In the resulting counter attack the senate restored the tax on boats and yachts, and moves were pending to revive the levies on furs, jewelry and cosmetics and toilet articles.

The senate was showing a disposition for speed, agreeing to meet tomorrow at 10 o'clock while giving up the night sessions at 7:30 p. m.

Leaders of the bi-party coalition were optimistic of the outlook after winning support for what was left on the automobile schedule.

There were tense moments after the senate, by a 42 to 29 vote, refused to follow the recommendation of its finance committee and increase the passenger automobile tax from 3 to 4 percent.

Then Senator Reed (R. Pa.), made a fervent appeal for a balanced budget, claiming the present uncertainty was causing withdrawala of gold by other nations. Other leaders joined in an effort to prevent the bill from being riddled.

Auto Tax Retained

Their appeals had weight. An attempt to eliminate the auto levy completely was overwhelmed then the senate accepted the 2 percent tax on auto parts and accessories.

Earlier a motion by Senator Bingham (R. Conn.), to legalize beer was beaten 55 to 26 and a series of other proposed amendments were thrust aside. Last week it voted 61 to 24 against beer for financing a public construction issue.

Senator Vandenberg (R. Mich.), who was leading the fight for elimination of the auto tax, heatedly retorted to Reed during the budget debate that because he was unwilling to have the automobile industry singled out for taxation was no reason to assume that he was against balancing the budget.

Senator Harrison of Mississippi, a Democratic leader, accused advocates of the sales tax of helping to strike out the vital excise levies and urged them to put forward their substitute for the schedule of special excise rates for an immediate showdown. They refused.

DEMOS' RELIEF BILL ADVANCED

Public Works Bond Issue Feature Disliked By President

Washington, May 25. (AP)—Senate Democrats pushed their $2,300,000,000 unemployment relief bill forward today despite President Hoover's emphatic opposition to its provision for a $500,000,000 public works bond issue.

The bill was formally introduced after receiving the unanimous approval of the combined Democratic steering and policy committes. It was referred to the banking committee.

Chairman Norbeck announced that committee would begin consideration of the bill next Wednesday and probably hold brief hearings at which administration officials and proponents of the measure would be called.

At the same time Speaker Garner said his $2,100,000,000 program had been drafted into a bill and would be introduced tomorrow.

Republicans on both sides of the capitol hoped for a compromise acceptable to the president.

The Democratic bill, which was presented to the senate by Chairman Wagner of the sub-committee which drafted it, provides in addition to the bond issue an increased capitalization of $1,500,000,000 for the reconstruction corporation for loans on self-liquidating projects and $300,000,000 for direct relief loans to states.

Denies Hoover Charge

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, who helped to frame the bill, said he would not agree to a recess for the conventions in June unless the bill was acted upon.

Wagner in presenting the bill denied President Hoover's contention that a bond issue for public works would result in the building of unnecessary and wasteful projects.

He said the government is spending annually $4,495,740 for post offices on which the leases will expire July 1, 1934. The average rental for each building, he added, was more than $6,000 a year.

"By every proper test," he said, "there is ample justification for a program of construction which would reduce this type of expenditure for the federal government."

Wagner told the senate "There is no merit in the president's criticism that public works provide but transitory employment."

"Surely," he said, "transitory employment is better than none. Furthermore, federal public works do not differ in that respect from local toll bridges and tunnels which are agreed to by the president."

Pleads Guilty To Charge of Bigamy

Allegan, Mich., May 25 (AP)—Joseph Nathan Stickler, 54, who admitted being married seven or eight times—he wasn't sure of the number—pleaded guilty in circuit court today to a charge of bigamy. He was remanded for sentence.

Stickler, who explained his adventures in matrimony as prompted by a "search for a perfect mate," confessed that he had been married seven times since the death of his first wife in 1924, without the formality of a divorce in any of the marriages. Specifically he was charged with having married Mrs. Lulu Burke, of Plainwell, Mich., while still the lawful mate of another woman. Stickler was arrested recently at Athens, Ohio.

NEITHER WILL ADMIT KILLING DEPUTY KNAPP

PROVIDE NAMES OF THREE OTHERS IN HOLDUP

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 25 (AP)—James Gallagher, 30, and Henry Marshall, 47, both of Detroit, tonight confessed that they were members of the gang that robbed a Grand Rapids savings bank branch of $6,072 yesterday, but neither would admit firing the shot that killed Deputy Sheriff Charles Knapp in the subsequent flight through Lowell.

Gallagher denied he was in the car that sped through Lowell. Marshall said he was the driver of the car, a blue sedan, and that Gallagher was his only passenger. The implication was that Gallagher shot down Knapp, who tried to halt the car.

Both Sheriff Fred Kelley and Prosecutor Bartel J. Jonkman said, however, that Marshall did not make such a direct accusation.

Marshall, in a supplemental confession, said there were five men in the robber gang and not four. Both Marshall and Johnson named Vincent Henry and Charles Johnson, alias Carl Johnson, also of Detroit, as their accomplices in the robbery. They are sought.

Marshall then stated that the fifth man, who was not previously mentioned, was Louie Gold. He to resides in Detroit, Marshall said, and was the custodian of the loot on the first flight from the bank.

Third Man Held

Marshall's initial story was that the four men, himself, Gallagher, Henry and Johnson, fled from the bank to a private garage they had rented in Grand Rapids, divided the loot and separated. He and Gallagher, he said, set out for Detroit in the blue sedan, and he said he assumed the other two made their way to Detroit.

After the deputy was killed in Lowell, Marshall said, Gallagher asked to be let out. Then, Marshall said, he hid his share of the money, about $1,300, in a woods and drove on to Detroit alone.

Today, he said, he suggested to Jack Schur, of Detroit, that they go fishing, and returned in Schur's car to the place where the money was secreted. They were arrested near Smyrna. Schur is held for investigation. He denies any direct knowledge of the robbery.

In the supplemental confession Marshall said that the five men approached the bank in two cars. Gold was alone in one car and four men in the other. Gold did not enter the bank, Marshall said, but the other four did.

Confronted with the statemen that bank employes had said that three thugs entered the bank Marshall laughed and replied: "No, there were four of us. Those guys in the bank were so scared they wouldn't have known if there were a dozen."

As the quartet left the bank, Marshall said, they threw the loot in the car in which Gold was sitting alone, and the four men drove to the private garage in the city. Gold, in custody of the gold and bills of small denomination, followed to the garage, Marshall said.

He said the men then divided the loot and fled the city, although Gold remained in Grand Rapids.

Gallagher Tells Story

Despite statements by Marshall that only himself and Gallagher were in the car when it passed through Lowell and Deputy Knapp was shot, Lowell residents who witnessed the killing reported three men in the speeding car. They said one man apparently was attempting to hide, and they could only see the top of his head.

Gallagher said the four men

Bank Cashier and Family Kidnaped By Bank Thieves

Portland, Ark., May 25. (AP)—After a harrowing 150-mile automobile ride with two bandits who had robbed the bank of Portland early today, R. P. Harvey, cashier of the bank, his wife, 18-year old son, and a woman guest in their home were released late today near Vicksburg, Miss. They returned here in Harvey's automobile.

The robbers obtained $9,769 from the bank.

Harvey and his wife were forced to ride in Harvey's car on the long trip, while the son, R. P. Harvey, Jr., and Mrs. Ellen Vann rode with the other bandit in another automobile.

After releasing their prisoners unharmed a few miles from Vicksburg, the robbers continued their flight in the stolen car.

"Bonus Brigade" Gets Another Ride

Washington, Indiana, May 25. (AP)—The "bonus brigade" has thumbed another ride.

Governor Harry G. Leslie today acted to provide Indiana national guard motor trucks for the three hundred odd World war veterans en route to the national capital to ask cash payment of their adjusted service certifictes.

Twenty-six trucks were brought here tonight and are expected to move out tomorrow for the Ohio state line with the "brigade" aboard. Ohio authorities have indicated that they will provide transportation across that state.

Governor Leslie at Indianapolis made it plain that it was a "one way trip" insofar as Indiana authories are concerned.

MARINES BOMB SANDINO BAND

17 Insurgents Killed in Nicaragua, Reports State

Managua, Nicaragua, May 25 (AP)—United States marines serving with the Nicaraguan national guard reported today the killing of seventeen followers of General Augusto Sandino, insurgent leader, in two attacks by air and by land.

While marine fliers bombed the insurgent band near the Neptune mine in the department of Prinzapolka Monday, a guard patrol commanded by Corporal Earl T. Gray attacked the insurgents on the ground. Corporal Gray, whose home is at Indianapolis, Ind., is a lieutenant in the national guard.

His detachment and the rebel troops under Pedro Altamirano, one of General Sandino's lieutenants, had fought for a half hour before the marine airmen began bombing the rebel group. The guard detachment was unscathed.

Reports that more American marines were to be sent to Nicaragua soon to supervise the November elections brought an assertion by Secretary of State Stimson at Washington that none would go to Nicaragua as combat troops. If any marine reinforcements were sent, he said, they would go as election clerks.

The reports of contemplated reinforcements were relayed to the United States through Dr. Pedro Jose Sepeda, foreign representative of General Sandino at Mexico City.

Demanding that the United States "show its hand," he said he heard that 1,500 marines might be sent down to supervise the elections. The result, he said, would be "another imposed government like that of President Moncada at a cost of about $500,000 to the United States."

Governor Brucker Goes To Washington

Lansing, May 25. (AP)—Governor Wilber M. Brucker was en-route to Washington tonight to lend personal support to congressional measures he believes would benefit Michigan. He also will seek to have Detroit River improvements so arranged that Michigan labor will be employed.

Harry Hamlet Is Appointed Head Of Coast Guard

Washington, May 25. (AP)—It took Captain Harry G. Hamlet 36 years to work his way up through the various grades of the coast guard service from ensign to commandant.

His appointment today by President Hoover to succeed the late Rear Admiral F. C. Billard, taking the title himself of rear admiral marked the summit of his long climb. He is now superintendent of the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn.

Hamlet was appointed a cadet in the coast guard service in 1894 and was commissioned ensign in 1896, his first assignment being aboard the historic cutter Bear.

He served on that vessel during her relief expedition to the Arctic in 1897-98 and aided in the rescue of the crews of four whaling vessels. The expedition has gone down in history as one of the most arduous and perilous to the far north.

Boy Who Wanted To Be Gangster Is Sent to Prison

Detroit, May 25 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old William Retty, who, the police said, had an "underworld big shot complex," today was sentenced to serve from one to five years in prison so he could "get next to himself."

Arrested twice for carrying concealed weapons since April 1, Retty each time told policemen they were "lucky I didn't see you first." He bragged about his underworld affiliations, and said he wanted to be a "big shot gangster."

"I advise you to get next to yourself in prison," said Recorders Judge Arthur E. Gordon, "and get a new slant on life, or you will land in jail continually."

A report of psychiatrists submitted to the judge recommended that the youth be sent to prison because he is "so carried away by his assumed importance that he might commit a serious crime if allowed at liberty." He will be sent to Michigan state prison at Jackson.

BLACKMER PAYS TAX AND FINES

But Oil Man Still Faces Arrest If He Comes Back to America

Washington, May 25 (AP)—Henry M. Blackmer, missing witness in the Teapot Dome oil trials, has paid the government $3,670,784 to settle civil tax evasion charges and $60,000 in fines for contempt of court but still faces arrest should he return to the United States.

Indictments charging tax evasion are pending against him in the United States court at Denver, and treasury officials said today they would be pressed should Blackmer return. George Gordon Battle, Blackmer's attorney, said today he had received no intimation that the wealthy Colorado oil man would break his exile and come back from France.

Battle paid the fines to the United States court today and received from the United States marshal $100,000 in 3½ per cent Liberty bonds which were seized by the government in 1927 when Blackmer was adjudged guilty of contempt of court for failure to appear at the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial.

Contempt of Court

It was Liberty bonds traced by the United States secret service which first connected Blackmer with the oil lease scandals in which the government charged that Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior, had conspired with Harry F. Sinclair, wealthy oil man, to defraud the government of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserves. The bonds, it was found on investigation, were part of the proceeds of an oil deal in which Blackmer, Sinclair and other oil men participated in the purchase and resale of oil.

He was found guilty of contempt of court a second time when he refused to appear at the trial of Sinclair in 1928.

Blackmer was assessed a total of $8,498,935 by the internal revenue bureau for back taxes, penalties and interest. The government placed liens on all of his property it could locate but could only find $1,589,398 worth.

Blackmer appealed to the board of tax appeals for a redetermination of the amounts and the government compromised assessments for 1916, 1917, and 1919 which amounted to $2,626,354 for $1,500,000 and collected the tax, penalties and interest for 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923. The tax amounted to $1,049,254 while the penalties and interest amounted to $1,121,530.

the party council insist the president is waiting for a clearcut position by the prohibitionists on the question of resubmission.

About twenty of the Republican high command have been asked to draft a prohibition plank. Each of the twenty is understood to have virtually separate propositions.

One thing already agreed upon, and announced by party leaders today in California, is the selection of Joseph L. Scott, a Los Angeles attorney, to place Mr. Hoover in nomination. John L. McNab, San Francisco attorney who presented the president's name to the Kansas City convention, suggested Scott, who seconded Vice President Curtis' nomination four years ago.

It also became known today that Charles F. Scott, former member of congress from Kansas and publisher of the Iola, Kansas, Register, will place Mr. Curtis in nomination at Chicago.

ADMITS STOCK DEAL, DEFENDS OFFICIAL ACTS

a day before the franchise was granted in 1927, a $10,000 letter of credit made out to Walker, which the mayor used on a European trip.

The mayor denied he knew the backers of the bus company.

He said he had not campaigned among board of estimate members for their support of the franchise.

He denied he knew Smith at all. Later he said that although he had never seen Smith, he had heard of him vaguely. He added he did not know Smith was connected with the bus firm.

"Just Pin Money"

His own explanation of the $10,000 letter of credit was that he had been told it was bought for him by members of the Democratic party to be used "as pin money on a trip to Europe."

He contributed $3,000 to the fund himself, he said, and gave most of the money to his wife.

Senator John A. Hastings, he said, had told him he let a friend (presumably Smith) buy the letter of credit because of the prestige it would give this friend at the bank where he purchased it.

"Did you know J. Allan Smith had paid for that letter of credit?" Walker was asked.

"I didn't know it at the time. Since then I read it in the papers."

Walker, in 1927, had moved in a board of estimate meeting, that the franchise be granted.

After the franchise had been issued, permission to operate the buses was denied by the state transit commission. The franchise, therefore, has never been used.

The usual "Jimmy Walker smile" wreathed the face of the world's best-known mayor as he stepped from his automobile at the entrance to the sombre court building.

He wore a tightly fitting blue suit, a blue tie and a blue shirt.

Through a solid black mass of his friends and supporter, a squad of police forced a way for him.

Inside the courtroom the scene had been set for his appearance. On a raised dais sat the committee.

Senator Samuel H. Hofstadter, chairman, had been rapping with his gavel for nearly 10 minutes in an attempt to obtain quiet.

Before him, with a sheaf of papers in his hand, stood Seabury, the bespectacled counsel who has questioned hundreds of witnesses since the inquiry began.

Signs Waiver

At a long table were the dozen young lawyers who make up his staff.

Nearly 100 reporters, many of them representing foreign newspapers, sat at tables and in a jury box which had been converted into a press stand.

After the mayor had mounted the witness stand and smiled down at the crowd, he was asked to sign a waiver of immunity. He pulled a pen from his pocket and put his name to the paper without hesitation.

As soon as Walker had signed the immunity waiver the committee counsel began a series of complex and detailed questions about events leading up to the granting of the Equitable franchise.

Throughout most of his hours on the stand Walker's face wore a serious, determined mien. Frequently he grew angry and, leaning forward, waved a finger in Seabury's face.

"Why did you as mayor urge the passage of the franchise?" Walker was asked.

The mayor wheeled away from Seabury and addressed Senator Hofstadter.

"Mr. chairman, I don't believe that your counsel or you have any legal right to inquire into the operations of an executive's mind or to cross-examine him about why he reaches his conclusions, his official conclusions, any more than I have a right to examine the governor as to why he makes an appointment, or why the president vetoes a bill."

As applause swept the courtroom, Seabury smiled and told Walker he had "an appreciative audience."

Hits At Seabury

While Seabury and Assemblyman Irwin Steingut were arguing over the details of recent testimony before the committee, Walker leaned forward and said:

"You ask me to remember details of a report six years old (on the bus situation) and you can't agree about what happened here last week, can you?"

Confusion broke out when Walker asked Seabury:

"Are you afraid of my answers?"

"Not at all," the counsel replied, "but are you afraid to answer?"

"I guess you're sorry you called him," some Democratic member shouted.

Other of the minority members took up the cry and soon there was a chorus from on end of the dais of such remarks as:

"You've got him here now, but you don't know what to do with him."

"You're sorry now."

In the midst of this confusion, Seabury said:

"Mr. Mayor, nothwithstanding these statements, I am very pleased to see you here."

"Judge," replied Walker, "I am pleased to see you. It is a deferred pleasure for 14 months."

Walker started to tell of a "campaign of propaganda" started by opponents of the Equitable, notably "certain traction interests."

"Never mind the propagandists," Seabury counseled.

"I will mind," Walker shot back. "This is only an annex to it, in my opinion. At that very time you were appearing for the traction interests."

"No, that is false," said Seabury, "and you know it. You can not draw a red herring like that over it."

"And you have not heard the last of it," Walker continued. "There are a couple of lawsuits that will familiarize you with it, and your participation."

(What lawsuits Walker referred to, was not made clear.)

Walker still was on the stand when the hearing recessed until tomorrow.

SENATE AGAIN REJECTS BEER

Substitute for Excise Levies in Tax Bill Turned Down

Washington, May 25 (AP)—The senate definitely and finally put aside 2.75 percent beer tonight as a source of revenue.

After a spirited debate the motion of Senator Bingham (R. Conn.) to substitute a two cents a pint tax on beer for excise levies in the revenue bill was defeated, 55 to 26.

Beer advocates, however, obtained a larger vote than they did last week in an attempt to use the product to finance a public construction bond issue. The ballot then on a proposal by Senator Tydings (D. Md.) was 61 to 24 against.

Stepping into the beer debate for the first time, Senator Borah (R. Idaho), prohibition leader, challenged contentions that a revival of this beverage would help the farmer, the government or the unemployed.

Bingham stirred a demonstration in the galleries as he clashed with Borah and argued his contention that beer did not result in drunkenness.

The Connecticut senator was complaining that arrests in the capital for drunkenness had doubled since prohibition. Borah commented that they probably were not the result of beer drinking.

"That is just the point I am making," quickly replied Bingham. "I say beer drinking does not result in drunkenness."

Vice President Curtis after quieting the demonstration from the spectators warned that a repetition would result in clearing the galleries.

Senator Johnson (R. Cal.), who did not support the beer proposal to finance a bond issue, voted today for the Bingham amendment, as did Senator Schall (R. Minn.), who did not vote last week on the beer proposal.

NEITHER WILL ADMIT KILLING DEPUTY KNAPP

went to Grand Rapids from Detroit Saturday, looked over the scene of the robbery and then discussed a hiding place for loot and stolen cars.

He said that after the quartet had made their escape from the bank wih the money the other three changed their pre-arranged plans and wanted to start back to Detroit. Gallagher maintained he refused a ride in a car with four man in a cross-country drive immediately after a holdup, and that they let him out of the machine in Grand Rapids.

He then started to hitch - hike back to Detroit, Gallagher stated in his confession, but became confused in his directions and wandered to the vicinity of Smyrna. His apprehension by two farmers followed when they became suspicious of the stranger.

Police tonight raided a house in the eastern section of the city where the remaining members of the quartet were reported in hiding, but the search was futile.

With the discovery of a revolver believed to be the weapon with which Deputy Charles Knapp was slain, and the discovery of $1,300 of the $6,072 loot, sheriff's deputies tonight pushed their search in the vicinity of Smyrna, 50 miles northeast of here, for other suspects in the robbery Tuesday of a local branch bank.

The gun, a .38-calibre nickel-plated revolver, was believed the most important clue since the widespread search for the bandits began shortly after noon Tuesday. Cecil Haight, of Belding, found the gun near Smyna, and turned it over to sheriff's officials.

The gun, police said, was found within a few feet of the cache where officials today found $1,300 in bills taken from the bank. Nearby was a paper bag containing 25 steel-jacketed bullets.

Near Ionia today state police fired on a speeding automobile as it passed along the outskirts of the city. They said they shot a tire off the car, and gave chase. The driver of the car sped to a point four miles north of Ionia, then abandoned his car in a field, and ran into the woods. State police and a posse of citizens started a search of the place.

In Detroit, police held Herbert Kendall, said to have been a "partner" of Gallagher, for questioning. Local officials requested his arrest after grilling Gallagher.

Campaign To Help Credit Conditions Of Mid West Begun

Chicago, May 25 (AP)—The campaign to loose the purse strings of the nation's credit spread to the middle west today with formation of a committee of industrialists and bankers "to consider ways and means of making more effective the federal reserve system's open market policy and of stimulating business."

Sewell L. Avery, president of Montgomery Ward and company and the U. S. Gypsum company was named to head the committee consisting of five other industrialists and five bankers.

Today's meeting followed almost exactly the pattern of New York conferences last week in which Owen D. Young was made chairman of a similar coalition. Ogden L. Mills, secretary of the treasury, and Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board, came from Washington to meet with Chicago and midwest leaders.

American Golfers Beaten In Scotland

Muirfield, Scotland, May 25 (AP)—Another American quest for the British amateur golf championship died today as the three survivors of an original delegation of eleven went down to defeat in the third round.

David Martin, stocky young Californian champion on whom the greatest hopes were based, was the first to fall and he was followed shortly by the Sweeney brothers of Oxford, Charles and Robert.

Martin played two rounds today, defeating Bernard Drawin, the English golf writer, two and one in the morning, but lost his touch in the afternoon and fell before H. Shaw, a 25-year-old Manchester player who hasn't even a local reputation, two up.

MRS. MOODY IS WINNER AGAIN

Other Americans Advance in French Tennis Championships

Auteuil, France, May 25 (AP)—Play in the French tennis championships today advanced to the semi-final round of women's doubles and the quarter-finals of men's and mixed doubles with Americans still prominent in all three divisions.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Elizabeth Ryan, favored American team, won their way to the semi-finals of the women's doubles in a shaky victory over the Swiss-French team of Colette Payot and Suzanne Barbier, 7-5, 5-7, 6-0. They will meet Senorita Elia De Alvarez and Josane Sigart in the semi-finals tomorrow.

Two Close Matches

The American queen of the courts previously had paired with young Sidney B. Wood, Jr., to defeat Cecile Durand Mercier and Francois Terrier, 6-3, 6-1, to gain a quarter-final berth in the mixed play. She and Wood will play the French star, Christian Boussus and Mlle. Ida Adamoff tomorrow. Miss Ryan and Jacques Brugnon, French Davis cup player, already were in the quarter-final round.

Mrs. Moody has had two close matches in her doubles play, yesterday with Wood and today with Miss Ryan, but each time has recovered sufficiently to win. Mlle. Payot gave Mrs. Moody and Miss Ryan a great match, outplaying them almost single handed until she tired.

Play starts tomorrow in men's singles with Rene LaCoste, making a return to championship competition after an absence of two years because of illness, playing in he first featured match. LaCoste, former French Davis cup star, was unseeded in an entry list including Henri Cochet, Wood, Mangin, Perry and nearly all the Davis cup stars of Great Britain, Japan and the European continent.

Michigan Baseball Team Will Tour Japan In Summer

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 25 (AP)—Coach Ray Fisher announced today that all arrangements had been completed for Michigan's baseball invasion of Japan. The Wolverine squad will sail from San Francisco August 11 and will be gone about six weeks. A stopover at Honolulu for a series with University of Hawaii team also is planned on the journey to Japan.

The Michigan nine will not meet any teams enroute to the Pacific coast as several of the boys plan to attend summer school and the squad will go direct from here to San Francisco.

The Wolverines will play about 15 games in the Orient. Michigan enjoyed singular success on an invasion of Japan two years ago, winning most of their games.

Salt & Pepper

Bits of Seasoning in Local News for Today

THIS "CLEANUP" WAS DONE THOROUGHLY

There is an Escanaba woman, and Salt & Pepper refuses to divulge her name, who recently took a fancy to rock gardens. She decided that her own yard could be greatly enhanced in beauty by the installation of such a rustic flowery spot. Almost every time the family car went out on a country jaunt she would sight stones suitable for the rockery, and would call for a stop while the coveted stones were hauled aboard. In the meantime she had also been cleaning up around the yard, and was waiting for city trucks to come and haul away the rubbish so that she could start work on the rock garden. A sufficient quantity of suitable stones was soon accumulated, so she decided to go to work after receiving assurance that the city rubbish collectors would be around shortly. After about two weeks of painstaking work the rockery was completed and planted to flowers. Already she could picture the transformation would would take place in the yard when the flowers matured and blossomed. She called the city again to be sure that the rubbish would be removed, and rested on her laurels to let the spring showers and nature do the rest. Results came quicker than she anticipated. She arose one morning and went out in the yard to find that the rubbish truck had been there first, and had taken not only the rubbish but all of the rock garden as well!

Now she has to start all over again.

Drivers' Licenses Will Be Required In Police Campaign

In order to prevent unnecessary delays during the annual brake inspection test which the Escanaba police department will make starting June 1, local motorists who have not secured their new drivers' licenses are asked to make application before that time.

Attention is called by police to the fact that all motorists who secured their old drivers' licenses between Jan. 1, 1925 and Jan. 1, 1928 must now reregister, the old licenses having been invalid May 1.

The inspection starting next Wednesday will cover brakes, lights, and signaling devices as well as the license and driving credentials. Motorists will be asked to cooperate with the officers and take the test, so that the work may be completed in the shortest possible time. The annual inspection campaign has been carried on with success in the past, and has been a factor in reducing serious accidents.

Stagger Plan Proposed

Ironwood — Ironwood policemen and firemen will be placed on half time if the stagger plan suggested by Commissioner Oscar W. Schneider is approved by the city commission at its next meeting. The suggestion to place the two departments on half time in order to provide employment for men not employed at present was made by Mr. Schneider at the close of last night's commission meeting.

The sudden death of the late Fred Gregware came as a great shock to his many friends on the Garden Peninsula as well as to his friends in Lower Michigan from where he came about five years ago. Only twenty-four hours prior to his death, he had written to his daughter, Mrs. Maurice Garrett of Kenosha, Wis., expressing his intentions to visit her there in the near future. Soon after the receipt of the letter, Mrs. Garrett received a telegram informing her of the death of her father so that she had to come to Fairport instead of welcoming her father in her own home. Deceased had been in apparently good health and was working the day of his death.

CITY BUDGET CUT

THE Escanaba city council wins the approval of the bulk of the taxpayers for the straightforward manner in which it has tackled the problem of reducing the costs of our municipal government.

In such times as these, there is bound to be criticism of whatever action our governing bodies may take, but the protests that have come from certain quarters have not deterred the council from adopting measures which it sincerely felt were for the best interests of the general tax-paying public. The success of city manager form of government is dependent to a large extent on the having of a strong and able council, an objective which the voters of Escanaba certainly accomplished in the last election.

Salary reductions are never popular, of course, and it would have been better if private industry always had been able to maintain the level that existed prior to 1929. In compliance with President Hoover's appeal at the outset of the economic depression, many of the nation's basic industries endeavored to hold up wages, but forces beyond their control forced them finally to make slashes. Neither can the tax-paying workers in private industry, many of whom have lost their jobs and others who have accepted reductions in income, afford to pay the prosperity era wages to public employees.

Reductions in the incomes of the city employees will be offset to a considerable exten tby reductions in the cost of living, and through the adoption of a sliding scale the council has been mindful of the neds of the workers, in the lower wage brackets, for a reasonable standard of living.

Everywhere in the country, state, county and city governments are putting their houses in order. There has been considerable criticism in recent years of the high costs of local government, but it is a relief to see that the various local governing bodies are facing their problems squarely, which is direct contrast with the dilly-dallying tactics being displayed in our national Congress.

TOURISTS ALREADY ON THE ROAD

WHAT good roads, state ferries, pure air and cool breezes coupled with the glorious sunshine of the northland mean to Upper Peninsula cities, towns and villages even at so early a date as May was evidenced quite conclusively at one particular point on Ludington Street last evening when out of a total of 27 autos parked along the curb, it was found that 17 of these cars were from states other than Michigan.

Five of the cars were from Wisconsin, three from Ohio, three from Illinois, two from Indiana, two from Minnesota and one each from New York and Kansas.

Just what the occupants of the cars were doing in Escanaba was, of course, unknown but it is presumed that a portion of them were tourists, part of them salesmen and part were evidently transacting business or perhaps enroute to other cities.

Statistics tell us however that the average passenger of a car in interstate travel spends about $10.00 a day and with this figure as a basis of computation we find that with an average of only two passengers to each of the cars from other states there were 34 people represented in this one group of cars and collectively they expended approximately $340 yesterday.

Considering that other points along other streets in this city would tell a story of business in the same proportion, as well as other cities throughout the upper peninsula, we can easily gather the thoughts of what the traveling public means to any locality in dollars and cents each day.

This money in coming as it does from other states and other cities is the equivalent day after day of a tremendous payroll within the city of Escanaba and the more than can be done to attract these travelers and have them spend a few days in this locality, the greater will be the reward to Escanaba people generally.

If a survey were to be made of the homes in this city where tourists find rooms and other accommodations, the total figures on the amount of cash left by these tourists in the period of a touring season would be staggering to even those people who are well versed in these statistics.

The more that can be done to make Escanaba attractive to tourists and other visitors as well as to make their stay pleasant while they are here, will pay splendid dividends in dollars and cents year after year.

USELESS EXPENSE

(Sault Ste. Marie News)

Township officials naturally are not sweetly accepting the widespread idea that township governments could generally be abolished to the great benefit of the community and the lessened outlay for government. And it is probable that when Governor Brucker brings in recommendations for radical changes in the unit system of government, there will be violent opposition.

Nevertheless it is increasingly evident that money can be saved by combining townships into larger units—perhaps eliminating most of them by merging their control with that of the county. If, as has been done with a merger of three city departments here, considerable expense to the taxpayers can be effected, much more saving can be gained by joining townships.

This column has pointed out hitherto why there is much less need for township governments today that ever before. The automobile with its quick transportation is one of the main factors in making township government unnecessary. The telephone is another. Here in Chippewa county there are 16 townships in addition to the city of Sault Ste. Marie. All the rural townships might easily be governed by a commission elected at large,—a county government something after the manner of that which governs the city. Why 16 governments are necessary for a population that is not larger than that of the Sault is hard to see by one who is inerested in efficiency.

Even combination of counties might be effected in some instances, to the advantage of all citizens. In Georgia, for instance, Campbell county, one of the state's smallest counties, allied itself with larger and richer Fulton county. As a result of this alliance the people of what was Campbell county pay $50,000 a year less in taxes than when operating as a separate unit.

In Florida the sun comes out every day, says a vacation ad. And the mosquitoes come out every night.

Now that vacation time is here, the resort native sons had better start looking up figures to prove that any given day is the hottest they've have ever had.

Three holdup men got $25,000 from an Ohio bank the other day. That's about the only way you can get money from banks these days.

GERMAN DRIVE EXPECTED

On May 26, 1918, German shock troops were reported concentrating on the Chemin des Dames sector of the western front for their third major offensive of the year.

French forces opposing them had been reinforced, but only to a slight extent, and Allied experts were fearful that the German storm troops might again break through, as they had against the British in their March offensive.

It was estimated that nearly 250,000 American troops could be thrown into the breach in case of necessity, and several divisions are being held in readiness.

The railway station at Liege, Belgium, was destroyed in a raid by Allied planes. Twenty-six persons were reported killed there.

CHAPTER 1

THE green roadster cutting its way, sleek and ribbon-like, down the boulevard came to an abrupt, jolting stop at the intersection with Twenty-fourth street.

Cherry Dixon's chin rose to meet the sweep of the cold wind. Fluttering ends of a coral scarf escaped from her throat to do a mad dance over one shoulder. It was one of those days in early April when brilliant sunshine showered down on the world without warming it. The pale gold radiance seemed almost to make the air more biting. But it was spring sunshine, spring air and the combination was irresistible.

Cherry crooked her wrist for a quick glance at a watch dial. Only 1:10 now. She was not due for 20 minutes. There was plenty of time—oh plenty to reach the Wellington for her 1:30 engagement.

She had known all along there was time enough. Little danger that today of all days she would be late!

Another halt for traffic lights and then on again. Cherry's impatience was gone. What a day it was to be 19, to know the beige suit was as becoming as it was new, to be on her way to meet an exciting young man and to know—at least to know almost—that he cared as much about the meeting as she did!

Warm color that could not have been accounted for by the April wind crept into Cherry Dixon's cheeks. A chance observer, feminine, would have been almost sure to think "Lucky girl!" at sight of Cherry, so pretty, so youthful, at the wheel of her expensive roadster. A chance observer, masculine, would have been almost sure to think, "Lucky break to know a girl like that!"

Well, Cherry thought that she was lucky. For none of the reasons chance observers might have cited, however.

It had been the greatest luck in the world, surely, that for the second time in a week she was to see Dan Phillips. Oh, it had been simple to manage, telling Mother about the Guild committee meeting and to drive into town alone. There had been a committee meeting—until Gretchen postponed it. For that matter, what other girl of 19 would have to explain where she was going and with whom if the nation to take a drive at midday happened to strike her?

THE roadster reached the viaduct and was swept into the slow stream of east-bound travel. At Twelfth street — Wellington's busiest thoroughfare, boasting three buildings 20 stories high — the flash of green was almost lost in the crush of taxicabs, trucks, limousines and small, wheezing vehicles.

There was no time now to try to justify her deception, no time for day dreams. The shrill, authoritative blast of an officer's whistle sent the swarming mass ahead. The girl in the green car managed expertly to keep abreast of the current. Three blocks more and the roadster swerved to the curb before the Hotel Wellington.

Cherry stepped out, surrendered the car to a doorman and entered the gray stone building. She crossed the lobby and mounted the broad stairway leading to the mezzanine.

Mazie Cassidy, whose glowing titian curls and blue eyes made the cigar stand a highly decorative corner of the lobby, tapped the arm of her friend, Joe Kampschmidt, who was leaning over the glass surface of the counter.

"Well—look what blew in" Mazie whispered in a tone that belied her indifferent gaze.

Kampschmidt concentrated on the slim figure ascending the stairway. "Some baby!" he said casually. "Who is she?"

"Some baby's right!" Mazie commented. "What I wouldn't give for the dough her old man's got! Cherry Dixon—that's her name. Lives out in Sherwood Heights in one of those swell houses with a yard around it as big as a farm. I've seen her picture on the society pages. Most of the time she's away—in Europe or at some swell school or something. Gosh—some people have all the luck!"

"How about me, Mazie? Do I get a break this trip or are you going to another of your sixteenth cousins' weddings?"

Mazie grinned. "You can call me," she said. "About eight o'clock. There's a new orchestra at the Crystal Ballroom."

Whereupon Miss Cassidy and her friend forgot their interest in Cherry Dixon for more personal subjects.

It was 20 minutes after Cherry Dixon's arrival that a tall young man strode into the Wellington lobby. He wore a gray suit and carried a topcoat. His gray felt was tipped at an angle just slightly rakish. Broad shoulders, rather angular. Not a handsome young man but an attractive one.

In a dozen strides he had reached the stairway. Someone sang out, "Hi! Phillips!" just before he rounded the bend of the stairs. The young man turned, waved in salute and continued on his way.

THE mezzanine floor of the Hotel Wellington was a rather narrow gallery running the length of the Twelfth street side of the building. It was thickly carpeted and furnished in shades of wood green, bronze and ivory. Groups of overstuffed chairs, benches and four high-backed lounges were arranged near the iron work railing to overlook the first floor. Small desks and chairs stood beside the wall. The lighting was dim because heavy draperies shut out the daylight and only small desk lamps supplemented it.

The young man in gray gained the top step and looked about. None of the persons in sight seemed to interest him. There was a stout man in dark-rimmed spectacles writing at the nearest desk. Farther on two matrons engaged in conversation, one of them gesticulating emphatically. At the extreme end of the gallery a small boy was bobbing about after a mechanical toy.

The young man stepped forward uncertainly. All at once he caught sight of a beige shoulder nearly hidden by the sides of a wing-backed chair. He made for that chair.

"So there you are!"

"Oh, Dan—!"

"Cherry!"

Brown eyes laughed up at gray ones. The girl was prettier when she smiled. The green velour of the chair was a perfect background for her coloring. The small, rather oval face was creamy ivory except where tinges of rose burned through on each cheek. Curling lashes made the dark eyes darker. Her lips were crimson, possibly explained by the silver vanity case she held. Nature had designed those lips a trifle wide but the effect was charming.

Any expert would have said, too, that Cherry Dixon's nose was a fraction short of classic standards. Somehow the defect increased instead of detracted from the piquant total.

The tilted brim of her close fitting brown hat revealed a crescent of dark hair over one temple. Except for the brown hat and coral scarf Cherry was entirely in beige—beige suit and sweater, beige pumps and cobweb hose, gloves and even a purse of the same shade. The tone suited her perfectly.

THIS IS YOUR DAY

This is your day. Not Yesterday—
That day is done, your day no more—
Nor yet tomorrow—though you lay
Upon tomorrow's back a score
Of burdens that today must bear.
This is your day, and here, not there.
And now, not then, things must be done—
This is your day, the only one.

This is your day—the past is through.
The great unalterable past;
And you have something more to do
Than change a die already cast,
Or cast a die before its time.
There you may gaze, but here you climb.
This is your day, the only hour
Of earth within a mortal's power.

This is your day—but not for long.
This day yours now, or not at all.
Today you cannot live it wrong
And then tomorrow right recall.
Whatever day this day shall be
Tomorrow, till eternity,
Depends forever on the way
You live it now. This is your day.

Do You Remember?

Who was the first white woman to settle in Delta county? She was Mrs. L. A. Roberts, who came to the Flat Rock mill settlement on the Escanaba river in 1838. Her husband was an early fur trader in the upper peninsula and northern Wisconsin. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts made their home on the Whitefish river, near Rapid River. Mrs. Roberts was an eyewitness to the Indian massacre at Mackinac in 1812.

When the Chicago and North Western started the construction of its line from Escanaba to Ishpeming? It was in July, 1863. The line from Green Bay to Menominee was laid in 1871, and the remainder of the stretch, between Menominee and Escanaba, was completed in 1872.

Why Wells avenue was so named? Records indicate that it was named in honor of one of the partnership of Perry & Wells, contractors who built the road between Escanaba and Negaunee for the Chicago and North Western railway in 1863. Later, Perry & Wells established a mercantile business there. Wells avenue is now known as First Avenue South.

Road Work Trucks Subject To Levies

Gasoline used by trucks in road-building and road-repairing is subject to the gasoline tax unless the truck operates entirely upon private property, an opinion from the attorney general to the department of state, held recently.

The opinion declared that roads closed for repair, still remain public highways and vehicles operating upon them are subject to the gasoline tax. The same rule applies to new road construction. The department plans to operate in conformity with the opinion, and requests for refunds based on these premises, will be denied.

Yolk Color Taken Up With Mrs. Hen

Manhattan, Kas., May 25 (AP)—Egg yolks to match your light or dark colored necktie may be just around the corner.

A committee, appointed by the Institute of American poultry industries, is going to take the matter up with the hens.

Eastern egg buyers, apparently influenced by other than necktie color schemes, reputedly are discriminating against middle western eggs because of their dark colored yolks.

Prof. L. A. Payne of the poultry department of Kansas State college, heads the egg investigating committee.

Already, he asserts, experiments have shown that the darker orange colored yolks are more nutritious.

His committee now proposed to ascertain what percentage of farm produced eggs boast orange centers rather than the favored more yellow kind.

A final study will determine if it is possible to control the colors.

Annual Poppy Day Campaign Saturday

On Saturday, May 28, the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, working as volunteers, will offer to the people of Escanaba paper poppies made by disabled World war veterans in replica of the wild poppies which bloomed on the battle fields of France and Belgium. The poppy is recognized throughout the world as the symbol of World war sacrifice. All contributions made for the flower are expended for the welfare of the living victims of the war. Wearing the poppy performs the dual purpose of paying tribute to the dead and contributing to the welfare of the living.

County Problems Are Discussed At Meeting Tuesday

"We have no answer to the problems of Luce county," was the summary of the statement of John Bush of Negaunee, head of the land department for the Cleveland Cliff company at a meeting held on Tuesday afternoon in the community building at Newberry. The meeting had been called to discuss ways and means of tax and unemployment in this community.

Mr. Bush told how his company had reduced all salaries radically and suggested that Luce county should at once reduce her pay roll and cut out all but the most important items of cost. He mentioned that for the first time in the history of his company it was unable to pay the land tax on Luce county holdings as well as lands in other localities and suggested that, while he had not brought a solution to the problem he believed that we would all have to return to the 1910 standard of pay and living before any sort of an adjustment was arrived at.

Herman Kunert, president of the school board, presented figures which he asked Mr. Bush to take home with him for comparison with all other schools in the district, saying that the McMillan township schools were being managed as cheaply as any other school north of the Straits and for less money than most. Among those who attended the meeting were: P. S. Hamilton, president of the village and chairman of the board of supervisors, Supervisors Peterson, Fox, Bryans and Heidlebricht, township school board members Harter, Musgrover and White; Dr. H. E. Perry, S. C. Sleeper of the Luce County Road Commission, Attorney A. L. Sayles, County Clerk McMahon, and Treasurer Minard.

The court convented with taps led by Scout Executive Charles F. Spurr, of Marquette.

High School Girls Hear Splendid Talk

Miss Evelyn Archambeault of the French department of Northern State Teachers' College was the speaker of the evening at the Second Vocational Dinner given on Tuesday night to the girls of the Newberry high school graduating class. Miss Archambeault is an excellent speaker, and held the interest of her audience every moment. She talked on vocations.

The speaker prefaced her talk by giving the Business and Professional Womans' club the greeting of Dan Carey of Northern, who was the speaker at this event last year. She then went on to say that personality was the most important thing in success, that "time steals beauty away but charm remains." The importance of women in business and public life and the need for everyone to prepare for earning a living, the need for careful selection of a life work, the fact that training or experience were essential before a job could be undertaken and then mention of several fields of work in which women best succeed and in which the ranks are not overcrowded, furnished the main parts of her address. Miss Archambeault is a born teacher, much in love with her work, which she considers the most interesting and important job in the world.

J. Lynn McClung of the Newberry English department was chairman of the evening. Miss Elizabeth Hall, president of the club, greeted the guests and Jennie Kujala gave the thanks of the girls and their greetings to the members. Miss Kujala mentioned that she had heard the club was considering sponsoring a Girls' Reserve, an organization much like the Hi-Y club and stated that the B. & P. W. was the only organization in the locality which was showing any interest in the girls.

Music was furnished by two local soloists, Mrs. William Truman who sang "A Brown Bird Singing" by Wood, and Arthur A. Neu who gave two numbers: "Children of Men" by Russell, and "Luxenburg Gardens" by Manning.

Each guest was presented with a dainty compact as a memento of the event and Mrs. C. C. Smith, a local garden lover, sent lovely nosegays of violets, grown and arranged by the donner.

Miss Hall, the first president of the club, and who retires at the end of this year, was presented with a club pin by the members, Miss McClung making the address.

The guests of the evening were: Lorna Barrett, Margaret Beach, Alva Bergendahl, Helen Erickson, Florence E. Johnson, Jennie Kujala, Ruth Lavender, Sylvia Leveille, Caroline Mahlo, Maryruth Martin, Florence McKay, Delta Noy, Ethel Nicholls, Elsie Niemi, Charlotte Pakka, Eva Ruby, Dorothy Smith, Edith Walker.

The tables, decorated in tulips and green glass and tall pink tapers presented a delightful picture, the meal, prepared and served by members of the club was delicious and the event successful in every way.

Firestone

The Tire That Taught THRIFT to Millions

GUM-DIPPED CORDS
The Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process transforms the cotton cords into a strong, tough, sinewy unit. Liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, guarding against internal friction and heat, greatly increasing the strength of the cord body, and giving longer tire life.

TWO EXTRA GUM-DIPPED CORD PLIES UNDER THE TREAD
This is a patented construction, and the two extra Gum-Dipped cord plies are so placed that you get 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body, and tests show 26% greater protection against punctures and blowouts. It sets a new standard for tire performance on high speed cars.

NON-SKID TREAD
Tough, live rubber specially compounded for long, slow wear. Scientifically designed non-skid gives greater traction and safe, quiet performance.

Theatres

"So Big" is coming to the Delft today.

This announcement should be of interest to admirers of Barbara Stanwyck, who stars in the picture, of Erna Ferber, who wrote the novel from which the film was adapted, and to lovers of good pictures in general. For "So Big" is regarded by Warner Bros. as one of the ace productions of the company's list for this season, and newspaper critics in all the cities where is has been shown agree wtih them in this view.

"So Big" is one of the most elaborate and expensive productions ever turned out by a Hollywood studio, and Barbara Stanwyck is supported by a cast that can really be honestly described, for once, as practically all-star. Barbara's leading man is George Brent, that handsome young Irishman who is making such a sensation just now on the American screen. Another famous young man who appears in the film is Dickie Moore, who, though he is only five years old, has made an enviable record as a heart-breaker. You may remember seeing him in "The Star Witness" and "The Expert" with Chic Sale, and in "Manhattan Parade" with Winnie Lightner.

French Honor Anne Morgan

Miss Anne Morgan is the first American woman to be given the rank of commander of the Legion of Honor by the French foreign ministry. Not only is this a recognition for her war work but a tribute to her activities in restoring and giving back to the village of Blerancourt the 17th century Chateau de Blerancourt and its magnificent gardens. From now on this historic chateau, 60 miles from Paris, with its race collections of souvenirs, pictures and old manuscripts having to do with the friendship of France and America since the days of Lafayette, will be used as a base for excursions to Siossons, Coucy, Rethondes and other places unforgetiable to American soldiers. Only one other woman has ever been made commander in the Legion. She is Countess de Noailles of France.

80 PRESENT AT FINAL MEETING

Woman's Club Closes Year's Work At Temple Tuesday

A splendid gathering of approximately 80 members of the Manistique Woman's club enjoyed their final meeting of the current year Tuesday afternoon at the Elks' Temple when a one o'clock luncheon was served, annual reports of the departments and officers were given, and entertainment in the form of a one-act play and the singing of several selections by the newly organized Manistique Women's chorus were presented.

A delicious three-course luncheon, with Mrs. Fred Monroe as caterer, was served at one o'clock. Tables were attractively decorated in a color scheme of pink and green with floral center pieces of cherry blossoms, pink tulips, and other flowers. Nut cups were cleverly made of lace with tulle. Board members and officers were seated at the head table.

Following the luncheon annual reports for the year 1931-32 were read by the various department chairmen and club officers, showing the progress and work accomplished by the organization during the past year.

"The Lullaby," from Jocelyn, and "The Kerry Dance" were then admirably sung by the Manistique Women's chorus consisting of Mrs. T. J. Bolitho, Mrs. Paul Gero, Mrs. R. H. Wilson, Mrs. Edith Hudson, Mrs. A. F. Hall, and Mrs. Scott Creighton.

One Act Play

This was followed by a very entertaining and clever one-act play under the direction of Mrs. T. F. Mulrooney, entitled. "The Marriage Has Been Arranged." The play was a courtship affair with exceedingly clever lines. Mrs. Wesley Orr in the role of the male lover, and Mrs. K. Peterson as the young woman, took their parts splendidly and scored a big hit with the audience.

Concluding the program in an appropriate manner, Mrs. R. B. Waddell, retiring president, delivered a short farewell address in which she stated that she had greatly enjoyed the work and thanked club members for their splendid cooperation. Mrs. Waddell was presented with a beautiful corsage and a purse, given by members of the club in recognition of her splendid service.

Mrs. V. J. Hixson, president elect, was then introduced by Mrs. Waddell, and graciously acknowledged the corsage given her by the club.

Registrations Are Being Made Slowly

Electors voting in the first precinct are not making very rapid strides in registering under the new permanent registration law, according to records at the city hall. In order to avoid a last minute rush, a plan has been worked out whereby electors in the first precinct are being given precedence, although voters in any part of the city may register at any time.

All voters will be required to register before September 3 if they desire to vote at the fall primary election. Voters are urged to make a special effort to register before that date in order to avoid a last minute rush.

On Wednesday, August 24, and Saturday, September 3, the final day, the office of the city clerk will be open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harrington of Houghton were week-end guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Harrington, North Front street.

SERVICES TODAY FOR WM. WOOD

Rites to Be Held From Home and Presbyterian Church

Funeral services for William A. Wood, prominent Gulliver farmer and lumberman, who passed away suddenly at midnight Monday at his home on the River road, will be held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the family residence. Services will also be given at the First Presbyterian church with Rev. Deloyd Huenink officiating and interment will be made in Fairview cemetery under the direction of Sven Johnson, local mortician.

Mr. Wood's death came with surprising suddenness. Although he had been ailing this winter, he had, in the past month or so apparently regained his health and Monday transacted business in the city. His death is a sad blow to his many friends who held him in deep respect.

Born July 24, 1870, at Attica, LaPeer county, Mich., the deceased came to this vicinity with his parents when he was ten years old and has lived here ever since, lumbering during the winter months and farming during the summer. He had been working in the woods ever since he was a youth of 18.

Besides his widow, Bertha Wood, the deceased is survived by three sons, Everett M., Clayton, G., and William A. Jr.; seven daughters, Mrs. Leon Rice, Mrs. Clarence Benson, Mrs. Chris Wilde, Jr., all of this vicinity, Mrs. Floyd A. Myers, Detroit, Mrs. Elroy Comiskey, Alpena, and the Misses Eleanora and Eva, at home. A sister, Mrs. Thomas Edward, of Flint, and a half brother, Marvin Cudney, of Gulliver, also survive.

Markets Win From Oils to Take Lead In Diamond League

Winning a nip and tuck battle from the Sinclair Oils, the Central Markets, behind the sterling pitching of Leonard Stoor, went into undisputed possession of first place in the Manistique Diamond Ball League when they defeated the Oils, 6-5, in an extra inning game. The Markets now have won three straight games and lost none.

Both teams tallied twice in the first inning, the Sinclairs scored once in the second frame while the Markets dented the plate twice. The Markets were blanked in the third, however, while the Sinclairs tallied to knot the count at four apiece. In the fourth inning the Markets shoved over a run to break the tie, but the Oils came back in the sixth to tie the score again.

Neither team counted in the seventh and the game went into extra innings. After one away, Click beat out an infield hit, Elliot was retired for the second out, but Click scored when Hentschell singled and a poor throw was made to third to nab the former.

Bob Marks hurled fine ball for the Oils allowing only four hits, while the Oils gleaned but five off of Stoor. Ekdahl did the receiving for the Oils and Hentschell for the Markets.

Cleaners Win

The Manistique Cleaners climbed out of the cellar Tuesday evening when they defeated the Inland Steels, 18-13. The Cleaners had an easy time and were out in the lead from start to finish. The Steels put on a five run rally in the seventh.

On Monday evening the Norton Specials won an overwhelming victory over the hitherto undefeated Schuster Grocers, trimming the latter 21-3. In the third frame, the Specials sewed up the game by scoring 12 times. Eldon Norton and Holland formed the battery for the Nortons while Anderson, Schuster and Shampine did the heavy duty for the Grocers.

Creighton's Fords came out on top in their game with Lauermans by taking a 7-4 victory. Neis Halsey, caught by Bill Cook, hurled fine ball for the Fords. Jones and Brunet formed the Lauerman battery.

Gets Permit to Keep Bald Eagle

Permission was granted to Dr. H. H. Powers by George R. Hogarth, director of the department of conservation, to keep the American eagle shot by Conrad Rainbow on the latter's premises at MacDonald lake. Word was received from the Biological Survey at Washington, D. C., that no federal permit would be required to keep the bird and the state permit was granted. The eagle had been in the possession of Paul Knuth, local conservation officer.

The shooting of an American eagle is a federal offense. It has not yet been determined whether conservation officers will place a federal charge against Mr. Rainbow. The latter claims he shot the bird while it was in the act of carrying off one of his chickens.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kefauver returned Tuesday evening from an extended visit in the lower peninsula.

MORE GARDEN PLOTS OFFERED

Brodene Land Made Available; Legion to Secure Wood Lots

Land available for use by the unemployed for garden plots was greatly increased yesterday, when Oscar Brodene made known that he would give the use of his land near Skelton road for this purpose. Mr. Brodene stated that ten acres had been laid out at this time and that more would be available if the need was sufficiently great. No charge is to be made for the land but those who wish to use it must be prepared to provide their own seed and do their own work.

The Legion, which started the garden movement here, has provided several families with plots, but according to members of the committee the demand for ground is much less than was anticipated. The first piece of ground laid out by the Legion was taken quickly but there are now available five plots of ground that have not been asked for.

Many of the unemployed, it is learned, arranged for garden plots of their own before the public movement started and every available spot in the back yards has been planted to garden stuffs. Others have made no gardens and apparently have no intention of doing so. This latter group is to be denied welfare relief in the future.

In addition to the garden plots, the Legion is now making arrangements for wood lots and the unemployed will be given an opportunity to provide their own fuel for next winter. The wood will be given for the labor of cutting and trucks will be arranged for to haul the wood to the homes. The arrangement for the wood lot is not definitely completed yet, but several farmers near the city have offered permission to the Legion to cut the wood from certain pieces of land.

PREPARING FOR JOINT CONCERT

Escanaba Gladstone Bands Rehearse for Memorial Day

Two rehearsals by the combined Escanaba and Gladstone high school bands have been held this week in preparation for the Memorial Day concert which is to be given on the school play grounds at Gladstone Monday night at 7 o'clock. Details of the program to be given were made known yesterday by Robert N. Haskins, director of music in the Gladstone, who, together with R. P. Bowers, director of music in the Escanaba schools, have arranged and will direct the concert.

Among the features of the program will be the presentation of Suite, Atlantis (The Lost Continent) by S. F. Safranek. The music is written in four parts, namely, (a) Nocturne and Morning Hymn of Praise; (b) A Court Function; (c) "I Love Thee" (The Prince and Aana); and (d) The Destruction of Atlantis.

Atlantis is a continent mentioned in Plato's history and extended across the Atlantic ocean from Europe to Yucatan. It was, according to mythology, the home of a great race which conquered and civilized the world. The Azore Islands are considered to be the top of its lofty mountains, and are all of the great country that now remains above water. In the closing movement (d), Safranek portrays a vivid picture of sinking Atlantis. Occasionally, above the surge and crash of the relentless sea, one can hear the hymns of doomed people and the heartrending lyric of the lovers.

Another feature of the program which is appropriate to Memorial Day, will be the presentation of "Soldier Rest," a poem by Sir Walter Scott, by a group of male voices, to the accompaniment of a cornet obligato by Hercules Rouman.

Four Sousa marches, "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna," a descriptive overture by Von Suppe, a trumpet solo by Robert Bartella, accompanied by the Escanaba band, and a tuba solo by Keith Fjetland, accompanied by the Gladstone band, are also included in the program.

The program, in detail, follows:
March, Semper Fidelis—Sousa—Directed by R. P. Bowers.
Tuba Solo, "The Mighty Deep" by W. F. Jude—Keith Fjetland, accompanied by the Gladstone Band.
Suite, "Atlantis" by S. F. Safranek—Directed by R. P. Bowers.
March, "Stars and Stripes"—Sousa—Directed by R. N. Haskins.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 25 (AP)—Securities were again borne down by liquidation today, and trading became a bit more active in both stocks and bonds.

Share weakness continued to be of a rather selective nature in that utilities, tobaccos and foods were particularly depressed. Many second grade bonds suffered acutely, although highest rated issues did not escape pressure.

A spongy bond market might alone have accounted for the heavy stock market; but to this adverse influence were added such familiar factors as Washington uncertainties and disappointing trade statistics. Dollars weakened against European gold currencies. Wheat made fractional net gains but its rally failed to impress shares.

A. T. & T. Declines

Although net losses were small in such equities as U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, Standard Oil of New Jersey and American Can, declines of two points or more were numerous elsewhere. In this group came American Tobacco "B," Liggett & Myers "B," Borden, Drug, Norfolk & Western, Wrigley, Union Pacific, Hershey and Pacific Lighting. Union Pacific preferred lost 4. American Sugar preferred 6, Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit preferred 7 and Public Service of New Jersey 7 percent preferred 5½. General Foods was down 3 at one time, later halving this decline. Pennsylvania railroad closed at 8, off a point. American Telephone broke through its old low, selling at 93 1-8 and was down 1¼ net. Consolidated Gas, People's Gas and North American were somewhat heavier. Sales totaled 1,307,982 shares, the largest volume in a fortnight.

The upward movement of foreign exchanges established rates for French francs and Dutch guilders that assure additional gold shipments in view of the present frame of mind abroad, and withdrawals of about $20,000,000 for export were reported late in the day at the federal reserve bank.

Steel operations are very spotty and lower rates of activity in some lines this week more than offset advances in others, with the result that Iron Age's average ratio declined to 24 percent of capacity against 25 percent a week ago.

Divided actions of the day included the ordering of regular quarterly payments for Electric Power & Light preferred shares which have been selling at large yields. Both stocks rallied.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, May 25—Confident buying, coupled with the presence of two widely known speculative leaders, gave a fresh upturn to wheat prices today more than offsetting early declines.
Evidence accumulated that the trade was skeptical any great improvement of the winter wheat crop prospect would result from rains. Instead, belief apparently grew firmer that the bulk of damage to winter wheat was permanent.
Wheat closed firm at the day's top, ½ to 7-8 above yesterday's finish, corn varying from 3-8 decline to 5-8 advance, oats 1-8 to ¼ off to ¼ up, and provisions at 10 cents setback to a rise of 2 cents.
Corn and oats swayed in unison with wheat, although lagging somewhat on account of signs of a bigger movement of corn after termination of the planting season.
Closing indemnities: Wheat—July, 59 5-8 to 3-4, 61 7-8 to 62; September, 61 5-8, 63 5-8 to 3-4; December, 63 3-4 to 7-8, 65 7-8. Corn—July, 32 3-8 to ½, 32 7-8 to 33; September, 34 3-4 to 7-8, 35¼ to 3-8; December, 35 3-8, 36 to 36 1-8.

CURB SHARES BREAK SHARPLY

New York, May 25 (AP)—Curb market shares broke rather sharply in the most active trading since the second week of April today. Selling engulfed the utility shares in substantial volume, and some of the recently firm oils gave ground easily. A number of industrial specialties slipped off sharply.

Consolidated Gas of Baltimore and American Gas and Electric dropped 3 and 2 points, respectively to new minimum prices, while Electric Bond and Share, Niagara Hudson and United Light "A" slipped off about ¼ point to the lowest prices of the depression. Some of the preferred issues broke sharply, Electric Bond 6 percent selling at 19, off 4¼, and American Superpower 2nd preferred at 10, off 6.

The weekly power consumption figures showed a shrinkage of 12.7 percent from the like week of last year, but that was slightly better than the 13.1 percent decline reported a week previously.

In the oils Standard of Indiana ran into considerable realizing, losing nearly a point. Humble sagged 1 5-8, but Gulf held up well. Among the investment company issues, United Founders sold at a new low at ¼, off ¼. Coppers were again weak.

Soft spots in the industrials were Singer Manufacturing, off 6 to 75, and Parker Rust Proof, off 8 to 23. Great Atlantic and Pacific touched a new low at 105, off 5 points, then recovered a point.

Case Postponed

Marquette—After Judge Frank A. Bell yesterday granted a continuance in the $20,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Lillian Rytkonen, of Negaunee, against Dr. Salvatore Lojacono, superintendent of Morgan Heights sanatorium, in which she alleges that the death of her husband, Alfred Rytkonen, was caused by malpractice on the part of the doctor, Attorney M. J. Kennedy, counsel for Mrs. Rytkonen, asked that the court bring the case up for retrial as soon as possible.

Judge Bell, acting on the attorney's request, will call a special session of circuit court on September 14 for the purpose of rehearing the suit, upon which a jury failed to reach an agreement during the February term. The trial will have to be completed in four days, as Judge Bell has to go to Delta county on September 19, when court will convene there.

xx—Previous 1932 low.

New York, May 25 (AP)—The bond market resumed its downward journey today with all corporate categories plumbing new low depths for the year. Only the United States government section held to a comparatively steady position.

In the face of some severe losses, especially in the railway department, trading activity was only moderately greater than that of yesterday. Sales totaled $11,708,000, par value, while the average for 60 principal loans dropped seven-tenths of a point.

The federals were somewhat easy in the early part of the session, but some of them recovered substantially before the close.

The carriers were generally depressed by poor earnings reports and the announcement of E. G. Buckland, president of the railroad credit corporation, that $100,000,000 would be available for this purpose in the first ten months of 1932.

Losses of 1 to 16 points were suffered by some transportation liens. Santa Fe Convertible 4½s dropped 3 points for a new year's low.

The heaviest sufferers included liens of Baltimore & Ohio, Boston & Maine, Canadian Pacific, Central Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Chicago & Northwestern, Rock Island, Delaware & Hudson, Erie, Great Northern, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, New Haven, Northern Pacific, Southern and Union Pacific.

The utilities and industrials displayed much more resistance than the rails. Although the oils were steady, loans of power and light and communications companies sagged. National Dairy Products 5¼s were heavily traded for a loss of 1½ points. Amusement company bonds were also weak.

THEATRES

Joe E. Brown, star of "Local Boy Makes Good" and numerous comedies, appears as both fireman and baseball hero in his latest picture, "Fireman, Save My Child," a First National picture coming to the Rialto Theatre today.

Brown is given his greatest opportunity in "Fireman, Save My Child." In it he appears as the small town hero who is the assistant fire chief, and star pitcher of the local baseball team.

Evalyn Knapp, as the home town girl "Smoky Joe" loves and Lilian Bond, as the blonde adventuress he becomes embroiled with in the big city, furnish attractive feminine background for Brown's humorous antics. The large cast also includes a score of major and minor league baseball players.

DIAMOND BALL

PITCHES WINNING BALL

Joe Kernz, ace hurler of the Marble Arms Athletics, was in top form Tuesday night and held the hard hitting Olson & Hanson Vikings to 4 hits and 3 runs. In the meantime his teammates garnered 10 hits and 7 runs off Gustafson and Ferguson. Each team made 2 errors.

The summaries:

Athletics	102	220	0	7	10 2
Vikings	020	001	0	3	4 2

Batteries: Athletics, Kernz and Laidlaw; Vikings, Gustafson, Ferguson and Cannon.

SPECIAL MATCH FRIDAY

A special match game between the Veneers and Liermans Indians has been scheduled for Friday night. The Indians were recently defeated by the Men's Wear after a 10 inning battle. The Veneers is one of the strong teams in the league and a good game should result.

BLUE BIRDS BEAT YANKEES

A slugging match between the Blue Birds and the Yankees Tuesday afternoon resulted in a 19 to 12 victory for the Blue Birds. Both teams ran wild on the bases and hits and errors were as numerous as the scores. Albert Tibergen is captain of the Yankees and Lowell Girard captains the Blue Birds.

SHUT OUT VENEERS

Men's Wear continued their march toward the kitten ball title Monday night by taking the Veneers for a ride to the tune of 9 to 0. Ducheney, continuing his championship stride, struck out 7 of the Veneers and allowed but 4 scattered hits. His team played errorless ball.

Trudeau, Veneer hurler, had two bad innings, the third and the sixth, when bunched hits and errors permitted the Men's Wear to score four runs in each inning.

Mechanic Killed When Race Car Loses Wheel

DRIVER INJURED, NOT SERIOUSLY

Harry Cox, Indianapolis, Victim of Tragedy At Speedway

Indianapolis, May 25. (AP)—Harry Cox, 28, of Indianapolis, mechanic riding with Benny Benefield, 25, of Indianapolis, was killed late today when the car in which they were practicing for the 500-mile race here Monday, lost a wheel in the first turn, plunged over the outer wall and struck a tree.

Both men were thrown clear of the racer. Cox apparently was killed outright. Benefield was said at a hospital to have suffered lacerations, but not to have been seriously hurt.

The race car was the same one in which Joe Caccia and his mechanic were killed while practicing for the race here last year. It had been rebuilt for Benefield to drive.

Benefield and Cox were just starting a circuit of the motor speedway track when the accident occurred. They were not traveling at a high speed.

As the car emerged from the first turn, it lost the left front wheel. The little speedster swerved into the lower retaining wall, then skidded to the top of the curving brick surface and plunged over the outer wall. It struck the top of one tree and crumpled against the trunk of another.

The mishap was the first serious accident at the track this year.

(By The Associated Press)

Paul Waner climbed into the .400 class yesterday as all three National League members of the Big Six improved their batting averages. The American Leaguers were idle.

Waner smacked four hits in five times at bat, lifting his mark 16 points to .408. Chick Hafey and Hughey Critz each made two hits in four times up and improved their averages by four points apiece. Hafey went to .391 and Critz to .366. The standing:

Chick Meehan Glad He Quit N.Y.U., Has Lots Of Fun at Manhattan

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 24. (AP)—A few short months ago Chick Meehan, one of the greatest football coaches in the country, paced his office, worried, tired, disgusted.

He had just resigned as head coach at New York University, where in eight years, making full use of all the high powered arts of modern football, he had lifted the Violets from obscurity to a place where they challenged yearly for national supremacy, a football attraction capable of drawing $750,000 a year in gate receipts.

"I'm sick of the high powered ballyhoo of big league football," he said then. "Sick of driving kids, lashing them with everything but whips, until they break, just for the sake of winning. If I ever coach again it will be some little place where I can play with the kids, get a lot of fun out of the game and forget pressure."

Real Enjoyment

The Chick Meehan who chuckled over lunch today, laughed until tears ran down his cheeks telling of the fun and thrills he was getting out of coaching at a "little place" Manhattan College, looked ten years younger than the fellow who stepped down disgusted from N. Y. U.

"Why I wouldn't go back to a school like N. Y. U. again for $50,000 a year," he said. "I've had more fun, more pleasure out of the past four months at Manhattan, with a student body of 1,000, than I had in four years at N. Y. U."

Crammed full of enthusiasm, Meehan told a hilarious tale of his experiences at the Metropolitan college, a place so small that to get his candidates out for spring practice he said all he had to do was "go up on the hill and holler."

He's proud of his football players and the fact that they meet Holy Cross in the big game next fall. But his biggest moments so far at Manhattan have come apart from the football field.

He organized 16 intra mural teams in half a dozen different sports, got so many boys practicing in the band box gymn that basketball games and boxing practice rolled all into one, wrestlers were throwing officials and spectators, and the roof nearly flew off the place. Amazingly the intra mural program showed a profit.

On a dare, Chick organized four class crews, starting only with two rivers for equipment, and wound up triumphantly after two hectic months with four borrowed shells, one scow named "Aunt Katy" owned completely, the use of two boat houses, a borrowed yacht, and a regatta of four class crews that drew a crowd of 5,000 and four police launches to the Harlem, two excursion steamers, stopped traffic all afternoon, and left Manhattan college exhausted from excitement.

A 125-pound youngster who came out originally as a coxswain stroked the winning crew.

"And would you believe it," Chick asked. "We wound up with $100 profit. Don't ask me how. It's too complicated."

MENOMINEE TO SPONSOR MEET

Reconsiders Decision Not To Be Host to Invitational Affair

Menominee, May 25 (Special)—Official announcement is made by Mr. Minne, head of the high school athletic department, today that Menominee will again be host to the Upper Peninsula track teams in the invitational meet. Action was taken by Mr. Minne after he had been encouraged by Escanaba and Iron Mountain high school officials to hold the meet at a reduced cut in expenses.

The high school officials made the announcement of Menominee being unable to entertain this year a few weeks ago. Expenses were blamed for temporarily discontinuing the oldest meet in the Peninsula, if the meet had been held under the usual expenses, with two days alloted, it would not have been to the best interests of the school. As a matter of fact it might have meant a loss of $400 to Menominee this track season.

As it is there will be no try-outs the day before. The meet will be held on the one day, June 11. Teams will bear the cost of their own expenses. Any expenses over that will be prorated among the visiting teams.

So far Mr. Minne has received notices of entrance from Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Manistique, Wakefield, St. Joseph, Escanaba, L'Anse, and Kingsford. It was hoped that Ironwood would enter this year but from all indications they will not.

McMillan Defeats Lakefield, 11-10

McMillan, Mich., May 25. (Special)—The second of a series of games played by the Central League took place Sunday afternoon. McMillan triumphed over Lakefield in a hard fought contest played on the local diamond, the score being 11-10. At the end of the ninth and tenth innings the score was tied. McMillan succeeded in scoring the winning run in the eleventh.

Among the Lakefield fans who motored over to witness the game were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. Lon. White, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Williard Harkness, Mr. and Mrs. William Ney, Earl Mark and Earl Bryers.

The schedule for the Central baseball league games for Sunday, May 29, is as follows:

McMillan at Lakefield.
Newberry at Hulbert.
Curtis at Strongs.
Naubinway at Gould City.
Engadine at Munising.
Germfask at Grand Marais.

Pittsburgh Again Wins from Cincy

Cincinnati, May 25 (AP)—Advancing again under a first inning barrage the Pittsburgh Pirates took a second game from the Cincinnati Reds today, 9 to 4.

This time it was a five-run rampage, helped by fumbles by Heath and Hafey that put the Waner boys on base, to go home as Vaughan walked, Traynor singled, and Barbee and Suhr doubled.

The score:

		R	H	E
Pittsburgh	500 201 100	9	13	1
Cincinnati	020 020 000	4	9	2

Kremer, Chagnon, Smith and Grace; Carroll, Benton, Rixey, Ogden and Lombardi.

RELAY MARKS FACING DANGER

Peninsula Athletes Are Planning on Erasing Some of Records

Athletes entered in the U. P. relays here on June 4 will find some tough marks to shoot at, the record sheet for the annual relays shows. Some of them, especially the 16 second high hurdle record, appear safe from this year's field of contestants but others probably will be swept off the boards when the last tape is broken at the Escanaba athletic field on June 4.

One relay mark, the two mile record of 8 minutes, 47.5 seconds made by the Eskymo team in 1930, is especially in danger with both Escanaba and Soo athletes figuring on erasing that from the record books.

The present relay records follow:

Pole vault, 11 ft. 8 inches, held by Schram, Escanaba, made in 1929.

220 yard low hurdles, 26.8 seconds, held by V. Johnson, Iron Mountain. Made in 1931.

120-yard high hurdles, 16 seconds, held by Liberty, Gladstone. Made in 1929.

440-yard relay, class C-D, 48.4, held by L'Anse. Made in 1930.

880-yard class D, 1:46. Held by Rock. Made in 1930.

880-yard class C, 1:40.3, held by L'Anse. Made in 1930.

880-yard class B, 1:37.5, held by Iron Mountain. Made in 1930.

One mile, class B, 3:45.5, held by Menominee. Made in 1930.

Class D medley, 4:22, held by Rock River. Made in 1931.

Class C. Medley, 5:14.9, held by Gladstone. Made in 1931.

Class B medley, 3:58.8, held by Soo. Made in 1930.

Two mile, 8:47.5, held by Escanaba. Made in 1930.

Seventh grade 440 relay, 58.8, held by Barr. Made in 1928.

Eighth grade 440 relay, held by Webster. Made in 1928.

Orwell Is Favored In English Derby

London, May 25 (AP)—W. M. G. Singer's Orwell, winner of the two thousand guineas, and four other American-owned thoroughbreds remained in the English Derby field of 23 horses when the final acceptances were posed today for the one and one-half mile classic at Epsom Downs, June 1.

Singer, a retired New York business man living in England, also has entered Leighon, sired, as was Orwell, by Gainsborough. Victor Emanuel, who recently sold his American stables, kept Totaig eligible and Richard Croker named Celebrator and Corcy.

Since winning the two year old championships of the English turf last year, Orwell has been the outstanding favorite to win the Derby. Today he was quoted at the short price of 15 to 8 with Lord Rosebery's Miracle the second choice at 100 to 8.

High School Golfers Hold U. P. Tourney At Manistique Saturday

Manistique, Mich., May 25 (Special)—High school golfers from all corners of the upper peninsula will compete Saturday in the Regional Tournament that will officially open the Indian Lake Golf club. Five schools in Class B and two in Class C have already entered, according to John Kelly, tournament manager, and several more are expected to enter.

Menominee, last year's champions, will send a crack aggregation that is favored to repeat in this year's tourney. The diminutive Menominee shotmakers last year romped away with the tournament and were the favorites of the gallery. Ishpeming, runners-up last year, have not entered as yet but are expected to compete again. Sault Ste. Marie, led by Jhil Jacobs and McPike of football fame, are determined to make a strong bid for the title. The Sault golfers won a triangular meet last week and are all doing well.

Escanaba has signified their intention of entering and Houghton will also enter a team in Class B. The Copper Country lads are newcomers to the regional tourney but are expected to make a good showing. Iron Mountain and Negaunee, two of last year's entries, have not been heard from as yet. Manistique will enter a veteran team but will be handicapped by lack of practice.

Class C Event

Newberry and St. Ignace have entered in Class C at the present writing. St. Joseph of Escanaba, last year's champions in their class, are expected to enter.

The tournament will start at 1:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, and the Indian Lake course will be opened for the contest. Each school will enter four men and the total scores of the four players will constitute the team score. Awards will be given to the winning schools in each class and individual awards to the members of the winning teams. There will also be awards to the players making low scores in each class.

Winning teams in the Manistique tournament will be eligible to compete in the state tournament at the Masonic Country club in Grand Rapids on June 4. Arrangements for the regional tournament are in charge of John Kelly, local Junior high principal.

PRACTICE DAILY

Manistique, Mich., May 25 (Special)—Candidates for the Manistique high school golf team are practicing daily at the Indian Lake golf course in an effort to take first place in the regional tourney to be held here Saturday. The locals will be playing on their home course which should be an advantage but this is discounted by the fact that they have been unable to use the greens for practice.

Theron Southard is the only member of last year's team who will be lost to the squad and several promising new men have come up. Coach John Kelly is holding an elimination tournament Wednesday afternoon for positions on the team. Charley Burley, low man of the local squad for the past two years, will undoubtedly play in the number one position. Burley tied for low score in the tourney two years ago and was among the low shooters last year. Clayton Burrell, southpaw ace, who finished second at the Soo meet last week, is expected to hold down one of the places while Harry Dewey, who finished third at the Soo, ought to be the third man. The fourth position will be a battle royal between Boyd Bolitho, Wesley Orr, and Orris Leonard.

Manistique golfers who compete in the tournament in addition to playing for the regular awards will also be playing for the possession the University of Michigan cup. This cup, donated by the U. of M. club of this city, is awarded yearly to the Manistique player making the lowest score in the tournament. For the past two years it has been in the possession of Charles Burley.

"SEZ ME"

by Ken Gunderman

The failure of delegates to attend the U. P. football league meeting at Iron Mountain on Sunday clearly demonstrates into what depths of despair the association has descended. Truly, the football association is in need of a tonic.

—o—

Only two cities asked to be represented at the league meeting showed even enough enthusiasm to explain their position in the association and both expressed regrets for being unable to attend. Escanaba, graciously enough, notified Paul Gingras, league secretary, that they had no desire to enter the association again this fall unless they were assured a little better shake than they received last year.

—o—

Ironwood, Bessemer, Caspian, Ishpeming and Stambaugh who either were in the league last year or sought admission failed to send representatives nor did they explain their absence from the meeting. Westerberg of Stambaugh who officially is president of the league completely disregarded the meeting.

—o—

The Soo Bears received an invitation from Secretary Gingras to join the association and were seriously considering the situation. There is no doubt that the Soo Bears would make a welcome addition to the loop if their geographical location was more advantageous or if more cities in the eastern end of the peninsula could produce teams of as excellent calibre.

—o—

The Bears suggested that the association be split into an eastern and western division with a playoff for the championship at the close of the season. On paper, this idea is an excellent one but the facts show that the peninsula's best teams are in the western part of the peninsula while the Soo would have the eastern end practically to themselves. It is unlikely that such others teams that Munising, Newberry, Ishpeming and Manistique could produce would provide sufficient opposition to the Bears to warrant subdivision of the football association.

BOSTON HOLDS TO TOP PLACE

Bobby Brown Again Wins from Brooklyn And Vance, 4-2

Boston, May 25 (AP)—Bobby Brown, the Braves' 20-year-old hurler from Nantasket Beach who started his major league career a month ago by beating Dazzy Vance and the Brooklyn Dodgers, turned the trick again today and Boston held first place in the National league with a 4 to 2 victory in the final game of the series.

Brown gave only four hits, one less than he allowed the first time he faced the Dodgers, and struck out five. Vance allowed seven in seven innings before he was taken out for a pinch hitter, and three of them were bunched with a Brooklyn error in the second inning for three runs and the ball game.

Frank O'Doul and Joe Stripp hit successive triples for Brooklyn in the first inning.

Gladstone Diamond Ball Team to Play Manistique Sunday

Manistique, Mich., May 25 (Special)—Local diamond ball fans will be given a rare treat here Sunday afternoon when the Gladstone Veneers will play the local All Stars, a team composed of some of the best players in the Manistique Diamond Ball league. The game will be played on the eastside diamond at the court house and will commence at 2:30 p. m.

The game will be the first intercity game of the year and a large crowd of fans is expected to attend. Several games were played last season between Gladstone and Manistique teams and the contests drew large crowds.

Conference Friday On Baseball Loop

A conference of team managers for considering the reorganization of the Delta-Alger baseball league will be held Friday, May 27, at the Pass Time Gardens, Trenary, instead of July 27, as stated in a Press article yesterday. The meeting is called for 8:30 p. m., E.S.T., and invitations to attend have been sent to various managers in the loop.

BASEBALL TILT HERE TONIGHT

Colts and West End to Play at Fairground Diamond

Two teams of the twilight league, the Lauerman Colts and the West End, will inaugurate the new diamond at the fairgrounds tonight in a baseball game that promises plenty of action for the fans. The game is scheduled to start at 6:30 and there is no admission charge.

While both teams will put their full strength into the game, the result will not count in the twilight league standings as the league will not officially swing into its own until next week.

The West End Sluggers announced their lineup as follows: Bobbie Burns or Johnston, pitch; Jamar, catch; Herro, 1b; Seymour, 2b; Klug, 3b; Sullivan, ss; H. Sullivan, lf; McGovern, cf; Bill Burns, rf.

Jonas or Van Effen will hurl for the Colts with Moberg receiving.

The diamond is rapidly being put into tip top shape and will be in good condition to tonight's game.

INDIANS HAVE FARM PROJECT

Federal Governm't Gives Help to Harris Reservation

Harris, Mich., May 25 (Special)—P. D. Southworth, agricultural extension agent from Washington, D. C., has organized an extensive agricultural projert at the Indian reservation, four miles south of Harris. Mr. Southworth has made arrangements so that the Indians shall have over 75 acres of land plowed and gardens seeded. The labor of preparing the seed bed and the cost of seed will be financed by the federal government.

Club Organized

The agricultural project will function as an association called the "Hannaville Community Club." The object of this organization shall be for the purpose of inspiring better industrial, health, educational and home conditions in the community, and also to endeavor to educate the Indian to be independent and self-supporting.

Heretofore, the Indians have been dependent upon federal aid, but since this aid is not certain, it becomes necessary that the Indians begin earning their livelihood.

In order to receive any benefits from this project, all Indians over 16 years of age must join the association and pledge their loyalty to the club and presiding officers and that they will support any measures that are for the welfare of the club and community. Each Indian is to meet the following regulations:

He must cultivate his land to the best of his present means and ability and secure himself against want during the winter months.

He must prepare his root cellar for the safe storing of his roots and perishable vegetables during the winter months.

He must agree to avoid sports and pastimes during the week, during working hours, or such time that it will interfere with the garden or household duties.

Every woman member must agree to give earnest thought to the care of her home, the child care, and to ways and means of bettering the general conditions.

Every woman member must strive to better the conditions of her home and family, by regular cleaning, sewing, canning, preserving and pickling fruits and vegetables in proper season.

Officers of Club

The officers of this club are as follows:

President—Percy Thunder.
Vice president—Peter Kesick.
Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Peter Kesick.

Opening of School

It was through the efforts of Mrs. M. J. Eckard, U. S. field nurse, from Leona, Wis., that the Indian school was opened in 1930. Mrs. Eckard held home economics classes whenever she visited the Indian school once a month. Home economics classes will be given to the Indians this summer by Mrs. Florence Dault, teacher of the school.

District Meeting Of Painters And Dealers Is Held

General problems in selling, advertising and painting craftsmanship were discussed at a district meeting of about fifty paint dealers and master painters at the Ludington hotel last evening.

Out-of-town persons who attended were: Carl J. Ahlin, C. August Ahlin, Frank Hahn, Bark River; Gus Ekstrom, Frank E. Olson, Victor J. Billings, Manistique, Michael Kotchon, Manistique; John A. Kinne, H. W. Blackwell, Ernest A. Earle, William Lefebvre, Gladstone; and R. J. McPherson, Gladstone. The instruction school was conducted by Bernhard Lehmann, Roy L. Bess and Charles A. Olso, Chicago, representatives of the National Lead company.

"There are many master painters in the country who are licking the business slump because they are convincing the property owner that painting is an economic necessity," declared Mr. Lehmann.

"The wise property owner knows, continued Mr. Lehmann, that his home is his biggest investment and that if he is to protect that invesment, he must paint to avoid expensive repair bills and depreciation. But since all property owners do not recognize the economic importance of painting it must be brought to their attention by advertising and personal salesmanship."

A three reel motion picture, "A Painter and his Profits", was shown to illustrate graphically what can be done to reduce overhead, improve service to customers, to get new business and speed up collections. General craftsmanship problems were discussed and various painting demonstrations made.

Jumping Gas Tax Brings Jail Term

The department of state's investigation into alleged evasion of payment of gasoline taxes, is to extend to all parts of the state, it was announced recently by George L. Clark, director of the gas tax division.

As a result of recent activities, two men are serving jail sentences in the Ingham county jail, and five warrants have been issued in Saginaw. In cases where department investigators find evidence of possible evasion of the tax payment or where gasoline is sold without proper licenses, the department holds hearings before asking for warrants.

Hearings are to be continued in Detroit during the coming week and it is likely that hearings will be necessary in Grand Rapids and several other cities.
